

INDUSTRY QUICK FACTS:

Kentucky's vast network of automotive manufacturing, supplier and service-related companies provide a significant impact on Kentucky's economy, adding $4 billion annually to the state's GDP. Boasting four major auto manufacturing plants, the state is the third-largest producer of light vehicles in the country, building nearly 1.3 million cars and trucks in 2014. That places Kentucky first in production on a per capita basis.

Kentucky Automotive Industry Association

KYAUTOINDUSTRY.COM

Uniting automotive manufacturers, suppliers, service providers and partners in the promotion and advancement of Kentucky's automotive industry.

The Kentucky Automotive Industry Association (KAIA) serves as a unifying voice that strives to anticipate and address common challenges and achieve shared goals. By creating a forum for best practice sharing, leveraging the expertise of world renowned automotive-related companies, the association seeks to further grow and strengthen the industry across the Commonwealth.

WHO WE ARE

As an industry-led organization, KAIA is driven by the needs of Kentucky's expansive automotive network. The association was formed hand-in-hand with Kentucky's Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs) and suppliers in order to ensure its continued focus on addressing the challenges and opportunities of the industry.

WHO WE REPRESENT

KAIA is a statewide organization representing all automotive interests including OEMs, suppliers, academic institutions, individuals and any organization serving the automotive industry in any capacity.

MISSION

Our mission is to advance and promote Kentucky's automotive industry by providing leadership and creating collaborative partnerships that will ensure the industry has the resources it needs to succeed.

KAIA was established with four overarching goals in mind that reflect branding, leadership, advocacy and workforce development.
